

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention relates to a video camera system which has a 360° range for video recording inside and outside of a vehicle not limited to but including an automotive vehicle. The camera housing may have any geometric shape and can either be formed as part of the housing of a rear view mirror of the automotive vehicle or as a housing separate from the housing of the rear view mirror of the automotive housing.

mazzilli\cip-patcam.app